

CHINA WIRELESS TECHNOLOGIES SECURES RIGHT TO DEVELOP WIRELESS TERMINALS ON MICROSOFT'S WINDOWS CE PLATFORM

NEW WINDOWS CE PLATFORM-SUPPORTED PRODUCTS TO BE LAUNCHED THIS SUMMER

(Hong Kong, 22 May 2005) – China Wireless Technologies Limited (“China Wireless Technologies” or the “Group”) (stock code: 2369), China’s leading developer and marketer of wireless system solutions and wireless terminals, announced that it has signed an agreement with Microsoft which secures the Group the right to develop wireless terminals that can operate on the Windows CE platform. The new products are expected to hit the market this summer.

China Wireless Technologies’ propriety operating system has been running primarily on the Linuos platform. The agreement with Microsoft will extend the platform that supports the Group’s application programme from Linuos to Windows CE, thereby enabling it to expand the scope of application of its smartphones and other wireless terminals.

Mr Guo Deying, Chairman of China Wireless Technologies, said, “The agreement with Microsoft will allow the Group’s operating system to run on the Windows CE platform, thus expanding our market coverage. The move will also introduce technical experts and partners for the Windows CE operating system into the Group. China Wireless Technologies will continue to expand the industry application market for its smartphones and wireless data total solutions. The Group will also continue to strengthen its long-term strategic partnerships with internationally renowned corporations, telecom operators and corporate clients so as to reinforce its leadership in China’s wireless communication market.”
